

Music for Academic Advancement

The Musical Accelerated Learning Cycle

Learn how to use music to support successful learning---

Use music to:

- motivate students and build classroom community
- heighten attention and increase focus
- reduce classroom stress
- make classroom management effective
- provide memory hooks for academic advancement

Gain techniques, research updates and music suggestions that support academic success through the integration of music as a daily learning tool.

Discover----

HOW music supports learning

WHEN to use music

WHICH music works

About Chris Brewer, MA FAMI

Chris is a nationally recognized expert on techniques of using music to enhance learning motivation and success.

She has authored eight books including:
Soundtracks for Learning: Using Music in the Classroom.
Chris' workshops are lively, experiential, and meaningful.

I've been wanting to integrate music in my classroom but didn't know how. You've given me the confidence! I can't thank you enough. Keep motivating teachers, hence the children.

--Laura Chun, teacher
Cambridge College

I have immensely enjoyed the classes I have taken from you. Your ideas, resources, energy and knowledge are very contagious and your classes have greatly affected how I teach. I am very excited to share what I have learned.

--Ken Quehrn, Burlington, WA Music teacher
The Heritage Institute

27-hour Certification Course

Credits and clock hours available through

The Heritage Institute of Antioch as Soundtracks for Learning:
Music for Academic Advancement

July 22-24, 2009
Seattle, Washington

CONTACT INFORMATION

chris@MusicAndLearning.com 336-207-7505
www.MusicAndLearning.com

3 credits or 27 clock hours
$285 for 3-credits
or 27 clock hrs

School District Inservices
Available